I’m Barb Putman, Dean of Arts and Sciences.

The Arts and Sciences division includes three degree programs and one diploma program: Associate in Arts/College Transfer, Associate in Science, Associate in Fine Arts, and the Transfer Core Diploma.

Our degree programs prepare students with general education and electives to transfer to colleges and universities as juniors in most majors.

Our division also provides general education for all other degree programs at the college with classes that teach writing, oral communication, math, science, social sciences, and humanities.

Our faculty engage students in writing across the curriculum, problem-based learning, critical thinking, cultural awareness, and active learning.

Students who complete transferrable degrees with us perform better than students who start out at state universities, showing that the skills and knowledge that students learn at SCC prepare them for a successful transfer and provide a firm foundation for further study toward bachelor’s degrees and beyond.
